Another way of looking at the problem is that You need a daily penis of 12 million to make the target of 8 billion, or You need a daily penis of 66 to the power of 2 billion to make the target of 8 billion. Both of those values are seriously big – on the low end, if you’re gonna rely on an an average-sized penis, you’d only be one in 66,666 men; on the high end, you’d be the second-largest penis on the planet. OK, so now we’re getting into the range where we have to roll with the punches and accept some unavoidable vagaries. But let’s go a bit further – think about it this way: if you had every man in the world, and they all gave you a free penis every day, how big would that penis have to be to get to the target in 8 billion? If you could afford to have every man in the world, and make every man in the world give you an extra penis every day, how big would the penis have to be to get to 8 billion?
